PATTERSON FILES FOR HD 112 AND LAUNCHES NEW VIDEO

This week, Jared Patterson officially filed to run for State Representative, House District 112. Patterson's grassroots campaign has garnered the support of both elected officials and hardworking GOP activists with a message of smaller government, fiscal responsibility, and Texas values.

Jared stated, "My wife, Leslie, and I are excited about this official step to reclaim conservative leadership in House District 112. As momentum continues to build, we're sending a strong message that we must act now to implement conservative principles – like those I worked hard to implement while on the Sachse City Council."

Patterson has received significant support for his State House run over the last 4 months including many local and statewide leaders.

Mayor Mike Felix of Sachse endorsed Jared by stating, "Jared has fought for local infrastructure issues while keeping government transparent and efficient. We need his expertise along with his conservative values representing us in the Texas House." Patterson is unanimously endorsed by every member of the Sachse City Council who served during his tenure, receiving praise for his commitment to the citizens he represented.

Additionally, Jared has been endorsed by former State GOP Chairwoman Cathie Adams and was recently given the status of TEA-Approved by the North Texas Tea Party. Upon his announcement, Patterson's campaign released a video introducing his family and outlining his conservative record.

Jared has been married to his wife, Leslie, for five years and together they have two sons, Reagan and Austin. Jared and Leslie met as students at Texas A&M University, where he served as Vice President of their senior class. Jared is a Senior Energy Manager for Rapid Power Management in Dallas and serves as President of the North Texas Association of Energy Engineers. The Pattersons are members of Sachse's First Baptist Church.
