THOMASON FILES FOR DISTRICT 72 SEAT

REPUBLICAN VOWS TO BRING TRUE CONSERVATIVE VALUES TO DISTRICT

Big Spring, Texas, November 22, 2013– Yesterday, Mr. Shannon Thomason of Big Spring officially filed for a place on the ballot in the March 4th, 2014 Republican Primary to represent the people of the 72nd District in the Texas House of Representatives. Mr. Thomason, a corporate pilot for an oilfield manufacturing company, has a long history of grassroots activism in Big Spring and Howard County.

I am pleased to throw my hat in the ring to represent the fine folks of District 72. I look forward to the opportunity of bringing conservative Tea Party and West Texas ideals of smaller government, lower taxes, and responsible spending to the Capitol and working with other like-minded legislators in building a better Texas for all Texans.

When we are faced with rampant encroachments on citizen's liberty from a tyrannical federal government, it is vitally important that we and all Texans take steps to ensure that Texas remains a bastion of freedom, justice, and economic stability. To that end, it is my intent to work in the legislature to ensure that all Texans and specifically the citizens of the 72nd District are faithfully represented by an elected official who truly has their best interests at heart.

The 72nd District of the Texas House encompasses nine counties in West Texas: Coke, Concho, Glasscock, Howard, Irion, Reagan, Runnels, Sterling, and Tom Green.
