Representative Doug Miller Announces Campaign for Re-Election

Today, State Representative Doug Miller announced he will seek re-election to the District 73 State House of Representatives seat he has held since 2009. Representative Miller represents Comal, Gillespie, and Kendall Counties, which include the cities of New Braunfels, Fredericksburg, and Boerne.

As Chairman of the House Committee On Special Purpose Districts, Miller provided crucial conservative leadership in passing a balanced budget and a historic $3.8 billion property and franchise tax cut package for Texas families and job creators.

“This was truly a banner session for conservatives,” said Miller. “We balanced the budget, increased investments in border security, advanced our fundamental 2nd amendment rights, and fought government overreach every step of the way. I’m excited and ready to continue advancing our conservative values throughout the state.”

An unwavering protector of 2nd amendment rights, Miller was a strong supporter of the landmark legislation that allows for the open carry of handguns by licensed individuals. Miller’s commitment to 2nd amendment rights has earned him the past distinction of being ‘A’ Rated by both the NRA and TSRA.

This session, Miller was instrumental in working to secure the Texas border. He coauthored and passed groundbreaking legislation that invested $800 million in vital new technology and 250 additional troopers needed to keep our families safe from drug cartels, gang violence, and human traffickers.

A man of deep Christian faith, Miller is an unwavering defender of the sanctity of traditional marriage and a staunch protector of life, consistently earning the endorsement of top pro-life groups.

Doug Miller is a small business owner and president of Miller and Miller Insurance Agency. He and his wife, Anne, have two grown children, Douglas II and Amanda, and two grandchildren. They reside in New Braunfels.
